Directions: The KWL Learning Method is a tool to help students learn in a deliberate manner. You will first consider all of the things you know about slavery and write it down. You will then consider the things you most want to learn and write those down as well. Lastly, after the lesson is complete, you will write down all of the new material you learned and consider those items you need to do further research on. Complete the following chart as we engage in the lesson today.
